

Technocash Expands Collection Service

ISSUE DATE: 29th August 2008

Technocash has expanded its Collection Service. This new and improved program enables business to receive and track deposits through multiple channels, nationally and internationally.

Money is collected via internet / over-the-counter banking deposits, over the counter at Australia Post, wire and telegraphic transfers and directly from Technocash accounts.

Technocash’s Collection Service is perfect for:

- Monthly invoicing
- Subscriptions
- Memberships
- Same amount sales - identify each customer
- Repeat sales
- MLMs
- Charities - donations and purchases
- Lay-bys
- Loan repayments
- Debt collections
- Installment purchases

Every client is assigned a unique Deposit Reference, which is used when transferring funds. Business creates and manages client information, sets system preferences, and monitors collection activity - all from an online Account. Along with extensive client information, a superior search mechanism and full transaction history - Technocash's Collection Service makes the collection of money a pleasure for business.

Technocash’s Managing Director Paul Monsted says of these recent improvements, “It’s a strong, sound money collection system for businesses both large and small. Technocash’s Collection Service Accounts are streamlined to make collecting payments not only simple but flexible. We designed this product with business in mind.”

Deposit Reference forms can be emailed and posted to clients (see below).

Business also has the option of attaching unique client barcode/deposit references on invoices. These barcodes can be used over the counter at Australia Post outlets to make payments.

An application link can be placed onto a business' website enabling clients to apply for their own Deposit Reference.

Funds which have arrived in the business' Technocash Account can be banked-out nationally and internationally, used to make direct payments to other Technocash Accounts, used to send US checks and to pay bills through BPAY.

A major benefit of the Technocash Collection Service is that our system automatically identifies the Australia Post location or whether the deposit was made by bank transfer or wire transfer.

A business can check either the total deposits amount or obtain a detailed list of all deposits as shown in this Deposit History example.

The ability to identify payments by client, date and transaction type is extremely useful for all businesses.
